

Dr. Manal Salah Abd El Halim Ramadan

Manal.salah@Nursing.helwan.edu.eg Cairo, Egypt | +201110162314 |

Lecturer of maternal and new born health nursing

Faculty of Nursing – Capital University

Dr. Manal Salah is a distinguished lecturer of Nursing specializing in Maternal and Newborn Health at Capital University, Cairo, Egypt. She obtained her Ph.D. in Nursing (Maternal and Newborn Health) from Capital University in 2025, after completing her Master's (2021) and Bachelor's (2015) degrees in Nursing at the same institution.

Dr. Salah has extensive academic experience in teaching undergraduate nursing courses, including Maternal and Newborn Health, Clinical Supervision, Nursing Research, and Health Education. She has supervised clinical training and master's theses, developed curricula, organized workshops, and completed advanced professional training, including the McKinsey Forward Program and various certifications in modern teaching and statistical analysis

In addition to her academic role, Dr. Salah serves as Director of the Information Technology Unit and Deputy Director of the Crisis and Disaster Unit for the second consecutive year. She is an active member of the International Classification Team at capital University and seconded for one year to October 6 University, contributing to teaching, research, and academic development initiatives.

She has published three scientific papers in peer-reviewed journals and actively participates in national conferences as a speaker.

Dr. Salah has been Her exceptional dedication and hard work were recognized by her students, who honored her as the "Ideal Doctor" at both the 13th and 14th Graduation Ceremonies as a token of their deep appreciation and gratitude.